

Evidence Cards • E1–E6

CUT ON THE DASHED LINES • 3 CARDS PER COURSE

EVIDENCE

#1

STARTER

The Cordial Glass

Barty's glass, found empty on the study desk. A film of white grains clings to the bottom, gritty and bitter. The bottle on the sideboard is clear, with no grains at all. At 6:50 Dot, the housemaid, drank a glass from that same bottle and is perfectly well.

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 1

EVIDENCE

#2

STARTER

The Garden Ledger

Barty's gardening ledger, open in the potting shed. The last two entries are in Barty's own hand: "5:50 pm. Prize marrow weighed: 31 lb. Must beat the Vicar." and "6:20 pm. Cold frames shut. Tell Cook: marrow soup on Sunday."

YOUR NOTE

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 1

EVIDENCE

#3

STARTER

The Solicitor's Envelope

A long cream envelope on the study sideboard, printed "Whitlock & Crane, Solicitors · Trustees of the Thistle Trust." It is addressed to Barty in distinctive green ink. Inside is tonight's quarterly statement, signed in the same green ink by Sage Whitlock, sole trustee. Every column reads "in order."

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 1

EVIDENCE

#4

MAIN

Two Burnt Sachets

Two small folded paper sachets, half burnt, in the study fireplace. The surviving print reads: "DORMITAL Sleeping Powder · One dose only · Fernley Chemist · Prescribed by Dr. E. Fairw..." The patient's name has burnt away.

YOUR NOTE

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 2

EVIDENCE

#5

MAIN

The Note Under the Saucer

A folded note, still unopened, found on the study desk tucked under the saucer that had covered Barty's glass. It is written in green ink: "Barty, we must talk again before supper. Please don't do anything hasty on Monday. S."

YOUR NOTE

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 2

EVIDENCE

#6

MAIN

The Torn Check

A check from Barty's own checkbook, torn neatly in two, in the study wastepaper basket: "Pay Rowan Thistle, two hundred pounds." It is dated today and signed by Barty. On the back, in pencil: "Balance your books first."

YOUR NOTE

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 2

Evidence Cards • E7–E9

CUT ON THE DASHED LINES • 3 SPARE BLANKS

EVIDENCE

#7

DESSERT

The Blue Room Washstand

In the Blue Room, the guest room where Sage is staying tonight, a chemist's box sits on the washstand: "DORMITAL Sleeping Powder • Box of 6 sachets • Dr. E. Fairweather • Dispensed by Fernley Chemist this morning." The seal is broken. Four sachets remain.

YOUR NOTE

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 3

EVIDENCE

#8

DESSERT

The Unfinished Letter

In Barty's desk drawer, an unfinished letter in Barty's hand to a London law firm: "I wish you to take over the Thistle Trust from Monday. I find £4,000 has left the Trust in three years, every withdrawal signed by the trustee. I shall say so tonight, and" The letter stops there.

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 3

EVIDENCE

#9

DESSERT

Cook's Kitchen Slate

The chalk slate by the kitchen range, in Cook's round hand: "5:50 Morgan in, tastes soup. 6:00 Morgan & Dot on the silver. 6:10 Dot off to light library fire, back 6:15: nobody in there, cold as a cellar. 6:25 silver done. 6:30 Morgan takes sherry up."

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

ROUND 3

EVIDENCE

_ _

BLANK CARD

Write your own clue

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

SPARE

EVIDENCE

_ _

BLANK CARD

Write your own clue

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

SPARE

EVIDENCE

_ _

BLANK CARD

Write your own clue

THISTLEDOWN HOUSE

SPARE

Card Backs (optional)

PRINT ON THE BACK OF PAGES 1-2, OR SKIP

