

EVIDENCE #1

ROUND 1

◆ The Fuse Box

The fuse box is in the service corridor behind the bandstand. Its little door hangs open, and one fuse has been unscrewed by hand, not blown. Screwing it back in brought the lights back at 11:59 pm. The corridor door is never locked.

ROUND 1

◆ The Physician's Note

From Dr. Ada Penrose, a guest: "Foxglove, a heart medicine, swallowed in a drink. It works within a few minutes. I spoke with Gus at 11:50 pm and he was perfectly well, so he swallowed it after 11:50."

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #3

ROUND 1

◆ The Gold-Rimmed Coupe

Gus drank only from his own gold-rimmed coupe. It was found on the side table by his velvet chair, with a faint green film in the bottom. Dr. Penrose checked all sixty coupes on the champagne tower: every one is clean.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #4

ROUND 1

◆ The Masquerade Program

9:00 pm Doors open. 10:00 pm Dancing. 11:30 pm The Last Waltz. 11:50 pm Avery Lark sings "Midnight Moon". 11:55 pm Champagne at the tower. Midnight: all masks off, and an announcement from your host that will change everything.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #5

ROUND 1

◆ The Coat-Check Ledger

Masks from Marigold Costume House, one per ticket. No. 1 Swan: Avery Lark. No. 2 Gold moon: Jordan Pierce. No. 3 Peacock: Remy Quill. No. 4 Black cat: Dana Rook. No. 5 Owl: Sidney Hart. No. 6 Gold star: Morgan Bellamy. No. 7 Silver fox: Charlie Ashby. Only one fox on the list.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #6

ROUND 1

◆ The Gazette Column

From "Harbor Lights", last Saturday's Gazette: "Your columnist will be at the Midnight Moon Masquerade as a silver fox, so mind your manners! Rumour says Gus Whitlock has a midnight announcement that will shake Gull Harbor." A sketch of the fox mask is printed beside it.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #7

ROUND 2

◆ The Telephone Slip

Gull Harbor Telephone Exchange, night operator: "Call from the Blue Lantern lobby booth to the Gazette news desk, 11:51 pm to 11:59 pm. Caller: C. Ashby. Read out a column the whole time. Hung up just after the club's lights went out."

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #8

ROUND 2

◆ The Greenhouse Visitors' Book

The key hangs on a hook in the club kitchen. Sign in, please! 7:45 pm M. Kettle, herbs for the kitchen. 8:40 pm R. Quill, to sketch the orchids. 10:30 pm S. Hart, lilies for a corsage. No other names tonight.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #9

ROUND 2

◆ The Gardener's Note

Pinned inside the greenhouse door: "8:30 pm: evening rounds done, every plant in good order. 10:15 pm: two foxglove stalks snapped off at the stem. Who has been in here?" Signed by the club gardener, who went home at 10:20 pm.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #10

ROUND 2

◆ The Expert's Telegram

To A. Whitlock, Blue Lantern Club: "Examined your three Elias Thorne seascapes. Canvas less than two years old. Thorne died 1911. Paintings NOT genuine. Do not pay the balance. Suggest you question the dealer who sold them."

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #11

ROUND 2

◆ The Stage Cue Sheet

In the stage manager's hand: "11:30 pm Last Waltz, Frankie Dade conducting. 11:50 pm Spotlight on Avery Lark for 'Midnight Moon', song runs to midnight." Margin note: "11:58 all lights failed, spotlight too. NOT a cue! Band played on in the dark."

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #12

ROUND 2

◆ The Balcony Waiter's Slip

Balcony table 1, 11:50 pm: two lemonades for J. Pierce and M. Bellamy. Waiter's note: "Talking business the whole time. Both still at the table when the lights came back. Glasses collected 12:02 am."

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #13 ROUND 3*◆ The Mask in the Palm

Pushed deep into the potted palm by the service corridor door: a silver fox half-mask with no coat-check ticket. Inside the band is a maker's label: "Delacroix Theatrical Supply, Harbor Street." The club's own masks all come from Marigold Costume House.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #14 ROUND 3*◆ The Delacroix Order Book

Delacroix Theatrical Supply, order book, this month: "One silver fox half-mask, to be copied exactly from the sketch in Saturday's Gazette. Paid in cash. Collected Thursday by the customer: R. Quill, Quill Fine Art, Harbor Street."

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #15 ROUND 3*◆ The Portfolio Case

Left at the cloakroom under ticket No. 3: a leather portfolio case of sketches. Rolled up inside is a pair of white evening gloves. The fingertips are stained pale green, and bits of crushed leaf cling to one palm.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #16 ROUND 3*◆ Gus's Midnight Card

Found in Gus's breast pocket, in his hand: "Friends! Tonight I sell the Blue Lantern to the Harbor Hotel Company. And I must tell you that the three Thorne seascapes in my gallery are not genuine. The dealer who sold them to me is here tonight, and at midnight I will name..." The card ends there.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #17 ROUND 3*◆ The 11:55 Photograph

The club photographer's flash picture, stamped 11:55 pm: Gus at the champagne tower, taking his gold-rimmed coupe from a guest in a silver fox mask. Dana Rook is behind the tower, pouring. The fox wears a small peacock-feather pin on the lapel.

THE BLUE LANTERN CLUB

EVIDENCE #18 ROUND 3*◆ The New Will

From the office of Gus's lawyer, signed last week: "The Blue Lantern Club shall pass to my ward, Sidney Hart, unless the club has been sold before my death. If it has been sold, the money goes to the Gull Harbor Lifeboat Fund."
