Avery Vale

Apprentice Clockmaker

“Seven years at the workbench, and I can still hear every tick in that tower.”

FOR AVERY VALE'S EYES ONLY

Do not share this booklet. Do not read ahead of the rounds.

COSTUME IDEA

A waistcoat or work apron, rolled-up sleeves, and a jeweller's loupe or magnifier on a cord. Bonus: a pencil tucked behind one ear.

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS ABOUT YOU

Ellis Pendleworth's apprentice for seven years. Avery knows every gear inside Old Lark, and was the one who found Ellis in the workshop at 10:28.

- ◆ Ellis Pendleworth: your teacher, and the closest thing you have to family
- ◆ Harper Lune: arrived in town today, introducing themselves as Ellis's relative
- ◆ Reese Calloway: the City watchmaker Ellis never quite trusted

Suspects & your theories

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You walked into Pendleworth & Co. Clockworks at sixteen and never left. Ellis taught you everything, from oiling a pocket watch to keeping Old Lark on time. The whole town expects you to receive the keys to Old Lark tonight.

YOUR SECRET

Yesterday you peeked into Ellis's pocket diary. It said the keys to Old Lark would go to Harper Lune, a relative you had never heard of. You felt crushed and a little angry, and you have told no one. You would never have harmed Ellis.

Your story tonight

At 9:54 you walked down the corridor (Emerson Quill was already on the bench there), chatted with Ellis in the workshop, then climbed the tower stairs at 9:56 to oil Old Lark before midnight. The tower time clock stamped you in and out. At 10:27 you came back down into the workshop, and at 10:28 you found Ellis asleep at the workbench and could not wake them.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Find out who harmed Ellis
- ◆ Keep your peek at the diary secret for as long as you can
- ◆ Prove you deserve to look after Old Lark

HOW THIS BOOKLET WORKS

- ◆ Page 3 holds Rounds 1 and 2; page 4 holds Round 3. Read each round only when Detective Rowan Hale announces it.
- ◆ Print this booklet single-sided so later rounds never show through. You can also cut along the dashed line on page 3 and hand out the rounds one at a time.
- ◆ Share what your round tells you to share. Everything on this page stays secret unless a round says otherwise.

Rounds 1 and 2

★ Round 1

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 1.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Ellis winds the workshop mantel clock at ten o'clock sharp every night. In seven years, Ellis never missed it once.
- ◆ At 9:54 you passed Emerson Quill on the corridor bench, already scribbling in a notebook.
- ◆ When you left Ellis at 9:56, Ellis was cheerful and humming, winding key ready in hand for ten o'clock.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Reese Calloway what business a City watchmaker has at a small-town gala.
- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby who was allowed into the workshop tonight.

YOUR TASK

Tell at least three people about Ellis's ten o'clock winding habit, and ask them what the stopped clock could mean.

----- ✂ FOLD OR CUT HERE · ROUND 2 BELOW · WAIT FOR THE DETECTIVE -----

★ Round 2

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 2.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ At 7:00, while setting up, Devon Ashby pointed at the little brown bottle on the workshop shelf and asked what it was. You said: "Ellis's sleeping drops. Three drops and Ellis sleeps like a stone."
- ◆ If anyone mentions the tower: the punch card (E7) shows exactly when you went up and came down.
- ◆ Whoever holds Old Lark's keys starts the town's midnight countdown. It is the biggest honour in Larkhaven.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Harper Lune when they really met Ellis for the first time.
- ◆ Ask Emerson Quill what they saw from the corridor bench after ten o'clock.

YOUR TASK

Find the tower punch card (E7) on the evidence table and show it to anyone who suspects you.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3

✦ ✦ ✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ If the pocket diary (E12) comes up, admit you read it yesterday. You were hurt, not hateful.
- ◆ When you came down at 10:27, the workshop was very quiet. Ellis’s blue mug stood on the bench, almost empty.
- ◆ Emerson Quill was still on the corridor bench, pencil in hand, when you ran out calling for help at 10:28.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby where the gold ribbon for the party favours came from.
- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell what Ellis wanted to tell them after the announcement.

YOUR TASK

Make peace with Harper Lune in front of the group: tell Harper one thing Old Lark needs every New Year’s Eve.

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You have been mayor for nine years. You love Larkhaven, its river and its famous clock. The town hired Devon Ashby to run tonight's gala, and you signed off on every invoice.

YOUR SECRET

You want to move Old Lark's famous mechanism into a shiny new Town Hall museum and sell the old tower as flats. Ellis refused flatly. At 9:30 the two of you argued in the workshop, and you tore a page of your speech in half in a temper.

Your story tonight

You argued with Ellis briefly at 9:30, then went back to the front shop. From 10:00 to 10:25 you were at the toast rehearsal by the piano, and you squeezed into the photo booth with Reese Calloway and Harper Lune.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Keep the museum plan quiet
- ◆ Make sure Old Lark still strikes midnight for the town
- ◆ Find out whether the town's money was handled honestly

HOW THIS BOOKLET WORKS

Rounds 1 and 2

✦ Round 1

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 1.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Tonight is about Larkhaven! Remind everyone that Old Lark must still strike at midnight, whatever happens.
- ◆ You saw Ellis in the workshop at 9:30. Ellis was perfectly well, and very stubborn.
- ◆ The town paid for tonight's gala. You signed every invoice Devon Ashby sent you.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Harper Lune how they can prove they are really Ellis's relative.
- ◆ Ask Reese Calloway how much they once offered Ellis for Old Lark's mechanism.

YOUR TASK

Give a short, rousing "Mayor's welcome" toast with cocoa or cider, and notice who whispers during it.

✦ Round 2

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 2.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ If the torn speech page (E4) comes up, admit it is yours. You lost your temper at 9:30, nothing more.
- ◆ At about 8:45, Ellis asked you for five private minutes after the announcement: "About the gala accounts, Parker. You'll want to sit down."
- ◆ One of those invoices was for 400 fireworks. You never checked how many actually arrived.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby how many fireworks are waiting for midnight.
- ◆ Ask Emerson Quill what they plan to print in tomorrow's Ledger.

YOUR TASK

Find the letter from Ellis's desk (E8) and ask the group what it means for the town's money.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3✦✦✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ If pressed, admit the museum plan. You wanted Old Lark in a museum, not Ellis out of the way.
- ◆ From 10:00 to 10:25 you were at the toast rehearsal. The photo-booth strip (E9) shows you there at 10:12.
- ◆ Devon Ashby had promised to bring punch to the rehearsal at ten. It never came, and neither did Devon.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Avery Vale whether Ellis ever skipped winding the mantel clock.
- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby to account for every minute between 10:00 and 10:25.

YOUR TASK

Before the ballots, give the room a one-minute “Mayor’s summary” of the case so far.

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You run Calloway Timepieces in the City. For years you have wanted Old Lark's two-hundred-year-old mechanism. Its design is a legend among watchmakers.

YOUR SECRET

At about 9:40 you slipped into the workshop to make Ellis one last offer for Old Lark's mechanism. Ellis laughed and said no. You left at 9:47, muttering "Stubborn old fool." You know exactly how that looks, with the mantel clock stopped at 9:42.

Your story tonight

At first, say you spent the whole evening in the front shop. From 10:00 you were at the toast rehearsal, and you were in the photo booth with the Mayor and Harper Lune.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Hide your 9:40 visit for as long as you can
- ◆ Find out who gets Old Lark's keys now
- ◆ Recruit Avery Vale for Calloway Timepieces

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Admire Old Lark loudly: “The finest mechanism in the country, wasted on a small town.”
- ◆ Say you were in the front shop all evening (this is not quite true).
- ◆ Gossip: Harper Lune turned up in town today, out of nowhere. Convenient timing.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Avery Vale whether they expected to receive Old Lark’s keys tonight.
- ◆ Ask Harper Lune which train they came in on, and why today.

- ◆ When you left, the mantel clock was ticking normally.
- ◆ You noticed a clean ring in the dust on the workshop shelf, as if a small bottle had stood there until recently.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Emerson Quill how long they had been sitting in that corridor.
- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby where they were standing at 9:42.

- ◆ From 10:00 you were at the rehearsal. The photo strip (E9) shows you there at 10:12.
- ◆ A watchmaker’s eye: a clock that is fully wound but stopped has been stopped by hand.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell what they argued about with Ellis at 9:30.
- ◆ Ask Avery Vale what time Ellis winds the mantel clock.

YOUR TASK

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You have written for the Ledger for ten years: lost cats, bake sales, the year the river flooded. Tonight's announcement was meant to be your front page.

YOUR SECRET

You are working on a scandal: rumours that Old Lark was really built by an apprentice, not by a Pendleworth. Ellis heard about it last week and threatened to sue the Ledger. Tonight you planned to corner Ellis for a quote, so you sat on the corridor bench outside the workshop from 9:45 until 10:28.

Your story tonight

At first, say you were “around” all evening, writing. You never went into the workshop, not once.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Get the real story, whatever it turns out to be
- ◆ Keep your scandal draft secret until you are sure of it
- ◆ Be the first to name the guilty party (what a scoop!)

- ◆ Devon came out at 10:20, empty-handed, and walked quickly towards the kitchen.
- ◆ Avery Vale passed you at 9:54 on the way to the workshop and the tower stairs.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby why they spent fifteen minutes in the workshop.

- ◆ Your notebook shows nobody else came in from the corridor between 10:00 and 10:27.

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

Your grandmother was Ellis's sister. The family fell out fifty years ago. Last month Ellis wrote to you out of the blue: "Come to the gala. I have something for you."

YOUR SECRET

At 9:00 Ellis took you aside, squeezed your hand and said: "The keys to Old Lark are yours. Don't tell Avery; I'll tell them gently first." You have told nobody. You also carry travel sleep tablets in a silver pillbox, because trains make you restless.

Suspects & your theories

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH · KEEP IT HIDDEN

You are the culprit. You put Ellis's own sleeping drops into their cocoa. Nobody else knows.

Your background

Your party business is sinking in debt. For three years you have quietly padded the invoices you send the town, just to stay afloat.

YOUR SECRET

This year you billed the town for 400 fireworks but bought only 150. Yesterday Ellis found out from the fireworks crew and wrote you a letter: Ellis would tell the Mayor tonight, right after the announcement. At 7:00, while setting up the workshop, you asked Avery Vale about the little brown bottle on the shelf (Ellis's sleeping drops) and later slipped it into your bag. At 10:02 you wrote a kitchen slip for Ellis's cocoa, emptied the drops into the blue mug and carried it in at 10:05. You chatted until Ellis drifted off, tied the mantel clock's pendulum with gold favour ribbon and turned the hands back to 9:42, when you were on stage for the raffle. You left at 10:20 and hid the empty bottle in your padlocked supply crate.

Your cover story

You were in the kitchen from 10:00 to 10:25 refilling the punch, and you never went into the workshop after the raffle. The stopped clock "proves" Ellis collapsed at 9:42, while everyone could see you on stage. You may lie about all of this. Do not confess until Detective Rowan Hale reads the solution.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Keep suspicion pointed well away from you
- ◆ Keep the fireworks bill quiet
- ◆ Win Best Bluffer without anyone guessing why

✦ Round 1

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 1.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Keep the party running: you are the planner, after all!
- ◆ Point at the stopped clock: 9:42 is when Ellis must have collapsed, and you were on stage for the raffle in front of everyone.
- ◆ From the stage you saw Reese Calloway slip into the workshop at 9:40. Make sure people hear it.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Reese Calloway what they were doing in the workshop at 9:40.
- ◆ Ask Harper Lune why a stranger turned up on the very day of the announcement.

YOUR TASK

Get three people to agree out loud that the stopped clock shows when Ellis collapsed.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ About the kitchen slip (E6): yes, you wrote it, because Ellis asked for cocoa. Claim you left the mug on the corridor table for Ellis to collect, where anyone could reach it.
- ◆ If Emerson Quill says you went in: say you popped in for a moment to check the announcement time, nothing more.
- ◆ Point at the silver pillbox (E5): Harper Lune carries sleep tablets!

ASK

- ◆ Ask Emerson Quill why they sat outside the workshop door for so long.
- ◆ Ask Avery Vale whether they had been hoping to receive Old Lark's keys.

YOUR TASK

Quietly convince one player that Harper Lune's pillbox explains everything.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3✦✦✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ About the bottle in your crate (E10): the crate stood open in the kitchen all night, so anyone could have dropped it in.
- ◆ About the gold ribbon (E11): every party favour in the room has that ribbon, so anyone could have used one.
- ◆ About the letter (E8): if you must, admit the fireworks “mix-up”. Call it a supplier error you meant to fix.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Avery Vale why they were the one who “found” Ellis.
- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell whether the museum plan was worth a quarrel.

YOUR TASK

Steer at least one player to accuse someone else, and fill in your own ballot accusing someone else too.

Kit Sterling

*Antique Dealer“Everything has a price. Some things also have a past.”FOR KIT STERLING'S EYES ONLY

Do not share this booklet. Do not read ahead of the rounds.

COSTUME IDEA

Tweed, a pocket square, and a monocle or magnifying glass.

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS ABOUT YOU

Owner of Sterling's Curiosities on the high street. Kit has sold Ellis several antique clocks over the years.

- ◆ Ellis Pendleworth: your best customer, and your fussiest
- ◆ Reese Calloway: a City buyer who has been asking you about Old Lark
- ◆ Parker Brightwell: the mayor, who never buys anything

Suspects & your theories

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

Your shop on the high street is full of ticking treasures. Ellis was a loyal customer, and very hard to fool.

YOUR SECRET

Last spring you sold Ellis a “rare antique pocket watch”. It was a clever fake. Ellis discovered it on Monday and told you: “Refund me by the New Year, or the whole town hears about it.” You do not have the money.

Your story tonight

You were in the front shop all evening, valuing the clocks in the window. From 10:00 to 10:25 you sang at the toast rehearsal.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Keep the fake watch quiet
- ◆ Find out what happens to Ellis’s clock collection
- ◆ Make at least one “deal” tonight

- ◆ Page 3 holds Rounds 1 and 2; page 4 holds Round 3. Read each round only when Detective Rowan Hale announces it.
- ◆ Print this booklet single-sided so later rounds never show through. You can also cut along the dashed line on page 3 and hand out the rounds one at a time.
- ◆ Share what your round tells you to share. Everything on this page stays secret unless a round says otherwise.

Rounds 1 and 2

✦ Round 1

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 1.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Offer to value anything a guest has on them, for a very small fee.
- ◆ Gossip: Reese Calloway asked you this week what Old Lark's mechanism might be worth.
- ◆ Ellis's mantel clock is a fine old piece. It has kept perfect time for thirty years.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Reese Calloway how much they would pay for Old Lark.
- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell what will happen to the clock shop now.

YOUR TASK

"Value" three guests' accessories and announce what each one is worth.

----- ✂ FOLD OR CUT HERE · ROUND 2 BELOW · WAIT FOR THE DETECTIVE -----

✦ Round 2

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 2.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ If anyone mentions the fake watch, admit Ellis wanted a refund. You would have paid, eventually.
- ◆ At 9:40 you were watching the raffle, and you won a box of fudge.
- ◆ You noticed that Devon Ashby's supply crate in the kitchen has a sturdy brass padlock.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Harper Lune whether they will sell the shop's clocks.
- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby what they keep in that supply crate.

YOUR TASK

Find out who else Ellis was cross with this week.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3

✦ ✦ ✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ From 10:00 to 10:25 you were singing at the rehearsal. Plenty of people saw you.
- ◆ Antique tip: a thread can stop a pendulum, but the hands will not move back on their own. Someone turned them.
- ◆ Admit the refund demand in full: you had a reason to worry, but no chance to act.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Avery Vale whether Ellis ever let anyone else touch the mantel clock.
- ◆ Ask Emerson Quill whether the fake watch will be in the paper.

YOUR TASK

Persuade one person to “buy” an imaginary antique from you before the ballots.

*Gala Pianist & Bandleader"If you can hum it, I can play it, right up to the stroke of twelve."FOR SAGE WHITFIELD'S EYES ONLY

Do not share this booklet. Do not read ahead of the rounds.

COSTUME IDEA

A bow tie or velvet, a touch of sequins, and sheet music under one arm.

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS ABOUT YOU

Bandleader of the Larkhaven Five and tonight's gala pianist. Sage lives in the little flat above the clock shop.

- ◆ Ellis Pendleworth: your landlord and downstairs neighbour
- ◆ Devon Ashby: booked your band for tonight
- ◆ Parker Brightwell: requests the same song at every party

Suspects & your theories

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You play piano at every wedding and party in Larkhaven, and you rent the flat above Pendleworth & Co. Clockworks.

YOUR SECRET

You are four months behind on rent. Last week Ellis told you: “Pay by spring, or find another flat.” You also wrote the “Old Lark Waltz” for tonight, and it stung that Ellis’s name appears beside it in the programme.

Your story tonight

You played the piano from 9:00. At 10:00 you led the toast rehearsal at the piano until 10:25.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Keep your rent trouble private
- ◆ Make sure the countdown song is perfect
- ◆ Find out who stopped the music tonight

HOW THIS BOOKLET WORKS

- ◆ Share what your round tells you to share. Everything on this page stays secret unless a round says otherwise.

Rounds 1 and 2

★ Round 1

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 1.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Hum a few bars of the Old Lark Waltz for anyone who asks.
- ◆ Devon Ashby asked you to start the toast rehearsal at exactly 10:00 and keep everyone there until 10:25.
- ◆ At 9:40 the raffle interrupted your set. Devon was on stage holding the prize box.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell which song they want at midnight.
- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby why the rehearsal had to start at exactly ten.

YOUR TASK

Get the whole room to practise a ten-second countdown together.

----- ✂ FOLD OR CUT HERE · ROUND 2 BELOW · WAIT FOR THE DETECTIVE -----

★ Round 2

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 2.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Everyone who came to the rehearsal stayed until 10:25. The Mayor sang loudest.
- ◆ One person who promised to come never appeared: Devon Ashby, who said they would bring the punch.
- ◆ If pressed, admit the rent trouble. Ellis was strict, but kind about it.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Harper Lune whether they will be your new landlord.
- ◆ Ask Emerson Quill why they skipped the rehearsal.

YOUR TASK

Find two people who can confirm where they were at 10:10.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3✦ ✦ ✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Admit the waltz grudge: you wanted credit, not revenge.
- ◆ From the piano at 9:00 you saw Ellis take Harper Lune aside by the workshop door and squeeze Harper’s hand.
- ◆ You heard Old Lark strike ten during the rehearsal; nobody left the piano.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Avery Vale what the workshop sounded like at 10:27.
- ◆ Ask Reese Calloway why they looked so rattled when the rehearsal began.

YOUR TASK

Play (or hum) a dramatic “suspect theme” for the person you suspect most.

COSTUME IDEA

A flat cap, a scarf, a big ring of keys and a lantern.

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS ABOUT YOU

Has kept Larkhaven Clock Tower clean, oiled and locked for twenty years. Rory looks after the tower's time clock, which stamps a card for anyone who climbs.

- ◆ Ellis Pendleworth: your employer, and the only person who outranks you in the tower
- ◆ Avery Vale: climbs the tower with you every New Year's Eve
- ◆ Dakota Fenwick: tonight's fireworks master, setting up in the tower yard

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You have looked after the tower for twenty years. You know every step, every creak and every pigeon.

YOUR SECRET

You are terrified that the new keeper of Old Lark's keys will replace you. You have also been letting Dakota Fenwick store fireworks in the tower, which Ellis strictly forbade. Ellis found out this morning and was furious.

Your story tonight

From 9:30 to 10:30 you were in the tower yard helping Dakota Fenwick set out the midnight fireworks.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Keep your job, whoever holds the keys
- ◆ Keep the fireworks storage quiet
- ◆ Make sure Old Lark strikes midnight on time

Rounds 1 and 2

✦ Round 1

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 1.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ The tower time clock is set by Old Lark itself, and only your key can change it.
- ◆ Tonight only one card was stamped: whoever climbed is on it.
- ◆ You spent 9:30 to 10:30 in the tower yard with Dakota Fenwick.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Avery Vale how Old Lark was running tonight.
- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell whether your job is safe.

YOUR TASK

Tell at least two people how the tower punch card works.

----- ✂ FOLD OR CUT HERE · ROUND 2 BELOW · WAIT FOR THE DETECTIVE -----

✦ Round 2

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 2.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ If anyone mentions fireworks in the tower, admit it. You were only being helpful.
- ◆ Just before 10:00 you saw a light come on at the top of the tower: someone was oiling Old Lark.
- ◆ The yard is in plain sight of Dakota the whole time, and Dakota of you.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Dakota Fenwick how many fireworks they actually have.
- ◆ Ask Harper Lune whether they plan to keep the tower keeper.

YOUR TASK

Show the punch card (E7) to the group and explain the times.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3✦✦✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Admit your fear of being replaced. Fear is not the same as harm.
- ◆ Ellis kept the workshop shelf neat as a pin: every bottle and tin had its own spot.
- ◆ You have never seen Ellis miss the ten o'clock winding of the mantel clock.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby why the fireworks display looks so small this year.
- ◆ Ask Emerson Quill who walked past the corridor bench.

YOUR TASK

Ring an imaginary bell and lead a minute’s silence for Ellis before the ballots.

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You have kept the town archive for fifteen years. Old Lark's history is your life's work.

YOUR SECRET

You found papers suggesting Old Lark was built by an apprentice called Wren Tallow, not by a Pendleworth. Ellis begged you not to publish. You let it slip to Emerson Quill anyway, and Ellis knows.

Your story tonight

You were at the toast rehearsal from 10:00 to 10:25.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Protect your discovery
- ◆ Find out who gets Ellis's papers
- ◆ Solve the case with history on your side

Find one statement tonight that the evidence proves false.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3

✦ ✦ ✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ History tip: no Pendleworth has missed the ten o'clock winding in living memory. It is written in the archive.
- ◆ Admit Ellis was cross with you. You would never harm a source.
- ◆ Old Lark's keys passing to family is a tradition two hundred years old, except once.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby how long they have run the town's parties.
- ◆ Ask Reese Calloway whether they know who built Old Lark.

YOUR TASK

Give the room a 30-second "history of tonight" using the evidence.

Turn the page only when you are ready to begin. Detective Rowan Hale will tell you when to read each round.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

Your family has lit Larkhaven's midnight fireworks for twenty years. Safety first, sparkle second.

YOUR SECRET

Rory Penhallow let you store fireworks in the tower, against Ellis's rules, and Ellis found out this morning. Yesterday you also mentioned to Ellis that only 150 fireworks were delivered this year, though you heard the town paid for far more.

Your story tonight

From 9:30 to 10:30 you were in the tower yard with Rory Penhallow, laying out the fireworks.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Keep the tower storage quiet
- ◆ Make sure the display goes off safely
- ◆ Find out what happened to the missing fireworks money

Rounds 1 and 2

★ Round 1

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 1.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Explain, cheerfully, how a firework fuse works (no tricks, just sparkle).
- ◆ You were in the yard with Rory Penhallow from 9:30 to 10:30.
- ◆ Gossip: this year's display is much smaller than last year's.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby how many fireworks they ordered.
- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell who pays for the display.

YOUR TASK

Count the "fireworks" (any small objects) on a table and announce the total dramatically.

----- ✂ FOLD OR CUT HERE · ROUND 2 BELOW · WAIT FOR THE DETECTIVE -----

★ Round 2

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 2.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ Reveal it: only 150 fireworks were delivered. You told Ellis yesterday, and Ellis went very quiet.
- ◆ If the tower storage comes up, admit it and apologise.
- ◆ Rory Penhallow never left your sight in the yard.

ASK

- ◆ Ask Parker Brightwell how many fireworks the town paid for.
- ◆ Ask Devon Ashby who the supplier is.

YOUR TASK

Find the letter (E8) and tell the group whether the numbers match what you saw.

Round 3 and notes

✦ Round 3

✦ ✦ ✦

Read only when Detective Rowan Hale starts Round 3.

REVEAL OR SHARE

- ◆ You heard nothing from the workshop; the yard is on the other side of the tower.
- ◆ At 10:28 you heard Avery Vale shouting for help and ran in with Rory.
- ◆ Ellis once told you: “A clock never lies, but people make it.”

ASK

- ◆ Ask Avery Vale what they found at 10:28.
- ◆ Ask Harper Lune whether the display should go ahead.

YOUR TASK

Lead the room in a silent “firework” cheer (jazz hands) after your theory.

Before the game

THE TRUTH

You are innocent. You did not harm Ellis. But you do have something to hide, so tonight you will look suspicious.

Your background

You photograph every wedding, birthday and town event in Larkhaven. Tonight you run the photo booth, which stamps the time on every strip.

YOUR SECRET

Reese Calloway paid you to secretly photograph Old Lark's original drawings. At 8:15, while Ellis was in the front shop, you crept into the workshop and took the pictures.

Your story tonight

You ran the photo booth in the front shop all evening. You set its clock by Old Lark at 8:00.

Your goals tonight

- ◆ Keep your deal with Reese quiet
- ◆ Get the best photo of the night
- ◆ Help prove who was where
