❄️ Email version

Subject: You're invited: The Secret Santa Murder 📁

Hi [Name],

Our holiday party is getting a twist! On [date] at [time] in [place], we're playing The Secret Santa Murder, a cozy murder mystery game set at the holiday party of a fictional gift-basket company. You'll be playing [role name / "a party guest and detective"].

No acting or costume needed: a festive accessory such as [accessory idea] is plenty. If you have a suspect role, your booklet is attached. Please read pages 1–2 only, and keep them secret!

Please RSVP to [host] by [date]. See you there, detective.

❄️ Slack / Teams announcement

📁🔍 Holiday party alert! On [date] at [time] in [place], we're solving The Secret Santa Murder: a team mystery game (PG, office-friendly, no acting required). Ten volunteers play suspects; everyone else joins a detective team. Want a suspect role? Reply in the thread by [date]. Bring something festive: a scarf, a hat or a holiday sweater. Snacks provided! ☕

TIP

Send suspect invitations one week ahead with the booklet attached, and everyone else the Slack or email version.
