How to use this vault

150 hooks and 60 finished, timed story scripts. Each script is one page: what to say, what to show, where to pause and how to sound, beat by beat, plus 3 more openers for that story and a “Ready to post” box. Six steps from page to posted video:

1. Pick a hook
   Browse the hook library (pages 6–15): 10 hook types, 15 hooks each. Use one as your opener or as a title idea.
2. Pick a script
   Use the script index (page 16) to filter by length (30, 45 or 60 seconds) and subgenre. Every script starts on its own page.
3. Swap the 3 “Make it yours” points
   Each script lists 3 concrete swaps (relationship, setting, ending). Change at least one so your video is not the same as anyone else’s.
4. Record the voiceover
   Your own voice or any text-to-speech voice. Read at about 2.5 words per second and pause where the Caption / pause column says.
5. Add visuals per beat
   The Visual column suggests one shot per beat. Use footage you have the rights to: your own gameplay, your own clips, or licensed stock.
6. Post it, labeled as fiction
   Copy the “Ready to post” box: Shorts title, the one-line description (it already says “Fictional story”), 3 hashtags, and pin the question from the final beat as a comment.

The read-speed rule	2.5 words / second = 150 wpm
30 s script	55–75 words	5 beats
45 s script	85–112 words	6 beats
60 s script	115–150 words	8 beats
Each beat	words at most 2.5 × beat seconds + 2
Beat 1 (0–3 s)	the hook, 9 words at most

Running long or short?

Every word count in this book was checked against the rule above. Your voice may be faster or slower: if a take runs long, cut a pause, not a beat. If it runs short, hold the final caption longer.

Working in bulk?

The same text is in 3 CSV files: `hooks.csv`, `scripts.csv` (one row per script) and `script_beats.csv` (one row per beat). Import them into Google Sheets or Excel; see README.txt.

Originality & platform notes

Read this once before you post. It keeps your channel honest and keeps these scripts yours to use.

These stories are fiction

Every hook and story in this vault was written from scratch for this pack. None of them is a real forum post, a real person or a real event, and none was copied or rewritten from someone else's post. Names are invented first names. "Reddit-style" describes the format (a first-person story with a question at the end), not the source.

Recommended label: Fictional story

Add "Fictional story" to your video description or as on-screen text. Do not present these scripts as true events, as your own life, or as posts from a real community or a real user.

Add your own voice and edits

- Change at least one of the 3 "Make it yours" points in every script.
- Rewrite lines in your own words, add your own details, cut what you don't like.
- Choose your own voice, music, footage and captions. Your edits are what make the video yours.

Follow each platform's rules

Platforms update their rules on reused content, AI-generated or synthetic media, and disclosure. Check the current policy of every platform you post on, and turn on its AI or synthetic-content disclosure whenever it applies (for example, if a policy requires it for an AI voice). Use only footage and music you have the rights to.

Content level

All scripts are written to be advertiser-friendly PG-13: no slurs, no sexual content, no graphic violence, no self-harm, no instructions for anything illegal, and no medical or legal advice. If you rewrite them, keep it that way.

What this vault does not promise

No script can promise views, followers, monetization or income. Results depend on your editing, consistency and the platforms. This vault saves you writing and timing work; the channel is still yours to build.

The Judgment Ask

Open with the exact question your viewer will answer in the comments. The question is the hook and the CTA at once.

`Am I wrong for + [what you did] + [the detail that makes it unclear]`

H001	Am I wrong for charging my best friend rent for my couch?	12 w
H002	Was I wrong to skip my brother's birthday for a job interview?	12 w
H003	Am I the bad guy for eating the last slice I paid for?	13 w
H004	Was I wrong to tell my friend her proposal plan was terrible?	12 w
H005	Am I wrong for not lending my car to my sister again?	12 w
H006	Was I wrong to leave my own birthday dinner early?	10 w
H007	Am I the jerk for refusing to switch plane seats with a family?	13 w
H008	Was I wrong to read my roommate's note out loud?	10 w
H009	Am I wrong for not going to my friend's third engagement party?	12 w
H010	Was I out of line for correcting my boss in a meeting?	12 w
H011	Am I wrong for keeping the money I found in a used jacket?	13 w
H012	Was I wrong to cancel the group trip I planned and paid for?	13 w
H013	Am I the problem for not wanting my in-laws to have a key?	13 w
H014	Was I wrong to tell the truth in my friend's wedding toast?	12 w
H015	Am I wrong for asking guests to pay for their own dinner?	12 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any AITA / judgment script: S01, S09, S17, S25, S33, S41, S49, S57.

OF 10

Cold Open, Mid-Action

Drop the viewer into the most chaotic second of the story, then rewind. Works with any subgenre.

`[I was mid-action] + when + [the interruption]`

H016	I was halfway out the window when my roommate came home early.	12 w
H017	The bride was still screaming when I found the missing ring.	11 w
H018	My manager was reading my resignation letter out loud to the whole team.	13 w
H019	I was holding twelve pizzas when the neighbor finally opened her door.	12 w
H020	The lights went out just as the stranger said my name.	11 w
H021	I was mid-sentence in my toast when my phone started ringing.	11 w
H022	Three security guards were walking toward me, and I was smiling.	11 w
H023	The customer threw her coffee, and I caught the cup.	10 w
H024	My dad was already crying when I opened the envelope.	10 w
H025	I had one sock on when the fire alarm went off.	11 w
H026	The whole office went quiet when my email hit every inbox.	11 w
H027	I was locking the shop when someone knocked from inside.	10 w
H028	My sister was halfway through my diary when I walked in.	11 w
H029	The waiter was still holding the check when my date left.	11 w
H030	I was elbow-deep in the office fridge, holding the evidence.	10 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Works with any subgenre: pick the script first, then the opener that fits it.

Shocking Last Line First

Say the ending first, so the viewer stays to find out how it happened. Works with any subgenre.

`And that's how + [strange outcome]`

H031	And that's how my mother-in-law ended up locked out of her own party.	13 w
H032	That's why my landlord now has to knock twice.	9 w
H033	So yes, my coworker got fired over a stapler.	9 w
H034	That's the story of how I got banned from my own book club.	13 w
H035	And that's how a stranger paid for my entire wedding cake.	11 w
H036	Long story short, the neighbor's garden gnome now lives in my yard.	12 w
H037	That's why I never answer the door after midnight anymore.	10 w
H038	Which is how the entitled guy ended up apologizing to a parking meter.	13 w
H039	And that's why my brother isn't allowed to plan birthdays.	10 w
H040	So now my old boss works for me. Here's how.	10 w
H041	That's how I ended up adopting my neighbor's cat. Legally.	10 w
H042	Anyway, that's why the group chat is now called “Witness Protection.”	11 w
H043	And that's how my roommate learned to label her food.	10 w
H044	Which is why the lady in seat 14B now flies with headphones.	12 w
H045	And that's how a wrong number became my best friend.	10 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Works with any subgenre: pick the script first, then the opener that fits it.

04 OF 10

Petty Revenge Setup

Name the wrong in one line, then promise the comeback without revealing it.

`[what they kept doing] + so I + [vague plan]`

H046	My coworker kept stealing my lunch, so I started packing decoys.	11 w
H047	My neighbor kept parking in my spot. So I read the lease.	12 w
H048	He took credit for my idea, so I gave him another one.	12 w
H049	My ex kept using my streaming password, so I renamed the profiles.	12 w
H050	She told everyone I couldn't cook. So I catered her party.	11 w
H051	My landlord ignored my repair requests, so I started mailing them. Daily.	12 w
H052	The HOA fined me for my mailbox color, so I read the bylaws.	13 w
H053	My brother always “borrowed” my charger, so I labeled them all.	11 w
H054	My roommate never did dishes, so I hid every plate but one.	12 w
H055	A customer wanted me to follow the rules exactly. So I did.	12 w
H056	My coworker replied-all to embarrass me. So I replied-all back.	10 w
H057	The guy who cut the line at the bakery didn't know I worked there.	14 w
H058	My neighbor blew leaves onto my lawn every Saturday. I kept every leaf.	13 w
H059	My sister copied every outfit I wore. So I planned one.	11 w
H060	My boss said, “Do only what's in your job description.” So I did.	13 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any Petty revenge script: S02, S10, S18, S26, S34, S42, S50, S58.

05

The Entitled Person

Show the request in one line. The viewer's outrage does the rest of the work.

`[stranger] + demanded + [absurd thing] + [their excuse]`

H061	A stranger demanded my window seat because she “liked the view.”	11 w
H062	A woman at the park told me to give my dog to her son.	14 w
H063	A guest at my café demanded a refund for a free sample.	12 w
H064	My neighbor expected me to babysit because I “work from home.”	11 w
H065	A man cut in line, then asked me to hold his place.	12 w
H066	She wanted my handmade cake for free because it's “just a hobby.”	12 w
H067	A customer threw a tantrum because we closed at closing time.	11 w
H068	A parent demanded I hand over the last swing. I was fixing it.	13 w
H069	My cousin invited herself on my honeymoon. Then she complained about the hotel.	13 w
H070	A stranger at the gym asked me to leave so his friend could film.	14 w
H071	She returned a dress she clearly wore to a wedding. With confetti.	12 w
H072	A neighbor asked me to move my fence because it blocked her selfies.	13 w
H073	A passenger reclined into my lap, then asked me to hold her drink.	13 w
H074	A coworker's wife emailed me to demand my holiday shift.	10 w
H075	A man insisted my rescue dog was actually his. He'd never seen her.	13 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any Entitled people script: S03, S11, S19, S27, S35, S43, S51, S59.

06 OF 10

Family & Wedding Drama

Everyone has a family. Open on the moment the family rule gets broken in public, then let viewers pick a side.

`[family member] + [public moment] + [one unfair detail]`

H076	My mom gave my wedding fund to my brother. Then she asked for help.	14 w
H077	My sister-in-law wore a veil to my wedding. Nobody stopped her.	11 w
H078	At Thanksgiving, my dad announced who gets the house. It wasn't me.	12 w
H079	My cousin asked me to be a bridesmaid, then sent me an invoice.	13 w
H080	My grandma left me one thing in her will: a locked box.	12 w
H081	My fiancé's family had a group chat about me. I got added by mistake.	14 w
H082	My brother skipped my graduation. Now he wants me at his wedding.	12 w
H084	My stepdad gave a speech at my wedding. It was about himself.	12 w
H085	My parents rented out my childhood room. I still lived in it.	12 w
H086	My aunt seated me at the kids' table. I was thirty-one.	11 w
H087	Everyone knew about the surprise party except the guest of honor. Me.	12 w
H088	My twin wanted to share my wedding date. I said no.	11 w
H089	My mother-in-law returned our wedding gift. To me. At dinner.	10 w
H090	The best man's speech revealed a secret even the groom didn't know.	12 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any Family & wedding script: S04, S12, S20, S28, S36, S44, S52, S60.

Workplace Stories

Everyone has a boss story. Lead with the moment work stopped making sense.

`[boss or coworker] + [unfair act] + [your response]`

H091	My boss scheduled a meeting about meetings. I brought a timer.	11 w
H092	The new hire got my promotion. Then she asked me to train her.	13 w
H093	HR called me in for smiling too much. I'm not kidding.	11 w
H094	My coworker microwaved fish every day. Then I found out why.	11 w
H095	I accidentally sent my boss a meme about my boss.	10 w
H096	The company gave us pizza instead of raises. I did the math.	12 w
H097	My manager took a photo of my desk and sent it to everyone.	13 w
H098	I trained my replacement without knowing it. Then she quit on day two.	13 w
H099	My coworker put my name on a project I never touched. It failed.	13 w
H100	The interviewer asked me one question. I've been thinking about it for years.	13 w
H101	My boss said I could leave early. Payroll disagreed.	9 w
H102	The office thermostat war ended with someone getting written up.	10 w
H103	I found my exact job posted online. At a higher salary.	11 w
H104	A client called me the wrong name for two years. Then he met me.	14 w
H105	My team lead sent a voice note meant for his wife. To everyone.	13 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any Workplace script: S05, S13, S21, S29, S37, S45, S53.

08 OF 10

Roommate & Neighbor

Shared walls create daily friction. Lead with the one habit that crossed the line.

`[the person next door] + [the habit] + [how far it went]`

H106	My roommate has been paying half my rent for months. I didn't ask.	13 w
H107	My neighbor's security camera points directly at my kitchen window.	10 w
H108	My roommate started charging me for using the couch.	9 w
H109	The upstairs neighbor practices tap dancing at 2 a.m.	9 w
H110	My new roommate labeled half the fridge “mine.” Including my food.	11 w
H111	My neighbor keeps leaving notes on my car. They're getting longer.	11 w
H112	My roommate's boyfriend moved in. Nobody told me.	8 w
H113	Someone in my building has been taking my packages. I set a trap.	13 w
H114	My neighbor built a fence on my lawn. Then asked me to paint it.	14 w
H115	My roommate has been renting out my room while I'm at work.	12 w
H116	My neighbor's kid keeps “returning” things he never borrowed.	9 w
H117	My roommate made a chore chart. Her name wasn't on it.	11 w
H118	The couple next door argue every night. Last night they argued about me.	13 w
H119	My roommate keeps “borrowing” my clothes and posting photos in them.	11 w
H120	My neighbor mows his lawn at 6 a.m. So I learned the trumpet.	13 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any Roommate & neighbor script: S06, S14, S22, S30, S38, S46, S54.

09 OF 10

The Wholesome Twist

Start with a villain, end with a hero. Hint at the twist without giving it away.

`[someone you misjudged] + Then + [the reveal is coming]`

H121	I thought my neighbor hated me. Then I found what she'd been building.	13 w
H122	The grumpy old man next door left a box on my porch.	12 w
H123	A stranger paid for my groceries. Ten years later, I found her.	12 w
H124	My stepdad never said much. Then I read his notebook.	10 w
H125	The kid I tutored for free just sent me a letter.	11 w
H126	I was sure my coworker was spying on me. She was planning something.	13 w
H127	My landlord raised the rent. Then he explained why.	9 w
H128	A delivery driver kept leaving extra notes on my packages.	10 w
H129	My grandpa's “boring” hobby turned out to be the best gift ever.	12 w
H130	My strict teacher showed up at my graduation with a sign.	11 w
H131	I found a twenty with a note: “Pass it on.” I did.	12 w
H132	The neighbor who called me noisy left soup outside my door.	11 w
H133	My sister ruined my birthday plans on purpose. Then I saw the cake.	13 w
H134	The stranger who yelled at me on the bus found me later.	12 w
H135	My dad learned sign language in secret. For one conversation.	10 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any Wholesome twist script: S07, S15, S23, S31, S39, S47, S55.

10 OF 10

Unsettling & Mystery

Keep it PG-13: no gore, no injury detail. Just one ordinary thing that does not make sense.

`[ordinary object or place] + [one impossible detail]`

H136	Every night at 3:12, my smart speaker says good morning.	10 w
H137	My new apartment came with a key that fits no door.	11 w
H138	There's a chair in my attic I never put there.	10 w
H139	The house next door has been empty for years. Its lights still change.	13 w
H140	I keep getting texts from my own number.	8 w
H141	My dog won't walk past one spot in the hallway.	10 w
H142	The voicemail was me. I never made that call.	9 w
H143	Every photo from my trip has the same stranger in the background.	12 w
H144	The hotel room I booked doesn't exist. I stayed in it anyway.	12 w
H145	My grandmother's music box started playing on its own. It has no key.	13 w
H146	Someone has been leaving fresh flowers on my doorstep for a year.	12 w
H147	The old map in my new house shows a room we don't have.	13 w
H148	My babysitter asked who the other kid in the house was.	11 w
H149	The elevator in my building stops on a floor that isn't listed.	12 w
H150	I found a diary in a library book. The last entry was tomorrow.	13 w

Read it out loud. Every hook here takes about 3–5 seconds at 2.5 words per second. Up to 9 words fit the 0–3 s hook beat; for longer hooks, let the rest spill into beat 2. Pair with any Unsettling / mystery script: S08, S16, S24, S32, S40, S48, S56.

BEAT TIMELINE (SECONDS)

TIME (S)	VOICEOVER	VISUAL	CAPTION / PAUSE	TONE
0–3 HOOK	My sister uninvited me from her wedding by text.	Phone lock screen, one new message slides in	▶ Big caption, 2 words per card	Flat, stunned
3–10	Two hours before the ceremony. The reason? My dress was “too close to white.” It was pale blue.	Background gameplay, text bubble overlay	❚❚ Pause 0.5 s after “reason?”	Dry, slightly amused
10–18	I'd sent her a photo a month earlier. She replied with a heart emoji. I still have the screenshot.	Zoom on a blurred chat with a single heart	Highlight “heart emoji”	Matter-of-fact
18–27	So I stayed home, ordered takeout, and texted the whole family that photo with her heart underneath it. No caption.	Takeout box on a couch, send button tap	❚❚ Beat of silence after “No caption.”	Calm, deliberate
27–36	Within ten minutes, Mom called. Then my aunt. Then the groom, who apparently had no idea I'd been uninvited at all.	Incoming-call screens stacking up	▶ New caption per caller	Building speed
36–45	He drove over still in his suit. He said, “Get dressed. You're sitting in the front row, next to my mom.”	Car headlights at night, doorbell	Quote in a different colour	Warm, a little shaky
45–54	I went. My sister didn't speak to me all night. His mom asked where I bought my dress.	String lights, empty dance floor, slow pan	❚❚ Pause before the last sentence	Wry
54–60 CTA	So, was I wrong to send the screenshot? Tell me in the comments.	Freeze frame, comment icon pulses	Hold final caption 1.5 s	Direct change these 3 points so your video is not a copy of anyone else’s

Make it yours

1. Swap the relationship: sister to a best friend, a cousin or a future sister-in-law.
2. Swap the reason: dress color to a plus-one, a haircut or a joke in the group chat.
3. Swap the rescuer: the groom to the bride's dad, or nobody (you stay home and post the photo).

Turn a script into a video in 6 steps

A generic workflow that works with any text-to-speech tool, any video editor and any footage you have the rights to.

1. Personalize the script
   Apply at least one “Make it yours” swap. Read the script out loud once with a timer: it should land within its 30, 45 or 60 seconds.

2. Record the voiceover
   Paste the Voiceover column into any text-to-speech tool, or record yourself. Keep a natural pace (about 150 words per minute). Leave the pauses marked in the Caption / pause column.

3. Gather visuals you have rights to
   Background gameplay you recorded yourself, your own clips, or licensed stock. The Visual column gives one shot idea per beat; a single background clip with text overlays also works.

4. Cut beat by beat
   Use the Time (s) column as your edit list: one cut or overlay change at each beat boundary. The beat timeline at the top of each script shows where the beats fall.

5. Add captions
   Big captions, 1–3 words per card. Highlight the words named in the Caption / pause column, and hold the final question on screen for 1.5–2 seconds.

6. Post, label and ask
   Use the script title or your own version as the video title, add “Fictional story” to the description, turn on any disclosure the platform requires, and pin the question from the final beat as the first comment.

Batch tip: the CSV edit list

Open `script_beats.csv` in Google Sheets or Excel and filter by `script_id`. Each row is one beat with start and end seconds, voiceover, visual, caption and tone: an edit list you can keep open next to your editor.

Make a series

Every script page has a “Part 2 teaser” line: put it on screen at the end or in the pinned comment, then write the follow-up yourself. Want a second video from the same story? Swap in one of the 3 openers and one “Make it yours” point.

Simple version: use the scripts in your own content as much as you like; don't resell or share the pack.

You can

- Use any hook or script, as written or edited, in your own videos, Shorts, Reels, posts and captions.
- Use them for personal or commercial purposes, including your own monetized channels, on any number of your own channels.
- Edit, shorten, extend, translate or combine them, and read them with your own voice or any text-to-speech voice.
- Import the CSV files into your own tools, sheets and editing workflows.

You can't

- Resell, share, give away or upload this pack, the PDFs or the CSV files, in whole or in part.
- Publish the scripts or hooks as a script product: a script pack, template, prompt pack, course, e-book or any other text product.
- Present the stories as true events or as posts written by real people.

Good to know

- One purchase covers one creator, or one channel team working on the same channels.
- The stories are fiction. Please label videos made from them as "Fictional story".
