Quillfeather & Co. Rare Books, 14 High Street

Measured and drawn by PC Ashby on Friday morning. Not to scale in every detail; distances are approximate.

PC ASHBY, NOTES ON PLAN:

Door A: oak, glass upper panel, mortice lock. Door B: no lock. Back door: latch locks itself when shut; key needed from outside. Front door: latch lock. Each shop key set opens the back door and Door A.

GETTING AROUND

The Route 12 bus stop is right outside the front door. Little Wexham Library (Church Row) is about five minutes' walk. Mill Lane runs behind the yard.

Scene notes: Rare Book Room

PC D. Ashby, Little Wexham Constabulary. Friday, October 16.

1. Call received 8:57 am from Priya Halloran (shop assistant). I arrived 9:10 am with paramedics.
2. Mr. Cornelius Quillfeather, 72, owner, found in the Rare Book Room at the foot of the rolling ladder, left end of Case R. Paramedics confirm he fell from the ladder and never woke up. Most likely Thursday evening.
3. Top rung of the ladder (brass): left end loose. Its two brass screws have been turned out about four full turns. Fresh, bright scratches in both screw slots. No screwdriver found anywhere in the shop.
4. Underside of the top rung: a small smear of white, slightly sticky residue. Lab result, Friday 2:00 pm: wheat-starch paste, the kind used by bookbinders. The shop's own workroom glue is PVA wood glue (checked: not a match).
5. On the floor by the ladder: The Lantern Atlas (shelf mark 5·3), closed, undamaged.
6. Top shelf: gap at 5·1. The Marsh Clock is missing (confirmed by P. Halloran). Not found on the premises.
7. On the reading table: Mr. Quillfeather's diary (D11) with a folded handwritten note inside the Friday page (D14); a business card, "Desmond Achterberg, Collector."
8. On the floor beneath the ladder, partly under its left wheel: a folded paper receipt (D17).
9. Door A: open, Mr. Quillfeather's key set 1 in the lock. Rare Book Room window: painted shut, dust on sill undisturbed.
10. Back door: shut, latched, no damage. Mat inside back door: muddy shoe prints pointing into the shop, now dry. The yard is earth and gravel, soft after rain.
11. Front door: locked, no damage. Mat inside: damp marks, no mud (High Street is paved). Desk lamp in Rare Book Room switched on. Mr. Quillfeather's coat on the office chair, still damp.
12. Spare key set 3 on its hook behind the counter.
13. 9:05 am: Ms. Rosalind Fenwick arrived at the front door for a 9:00 am appointment. Asked to wait at the station.

DI Moss's working timeline

Typed up Friday evening from interviews and records. Times are as reported.

TIME	WHAT HAPPENED	SOURCE
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15
10:00 am	Shop opens. C. Quillfeather, I. Quillfeather and P. Halloran working.	Register / P.H.
11:05 am	P. Halloran signs out spare key set 3; back on hook 11:20 am.	D9
12:30 pm	I. Quillfeather texts C. Quillfeather about the Pageturner meeting.	D18
2:00 pm	T. Marchetti at the shop for about 15 min; argument over the Marsh Clock.	P.H. / T.M.
3:12 pm	C. Quillfeather texts R. Fenwick: meeting Friday 9 am. Reply 3:40 pm.	D18
3:25 pm	Receipt, Harrow Bookbinding Supplies, Market Harrow. Whose?	D17
3:45 pm	D. Achterberg arrives; goes into Rare Book Room with C.Q.	P.H. / D.A.
4:10 / 4:15 pm	C.Q. climbs ladder to top shelf (book down, then book back).	P.H. / D.A.
4:20 pm	D. Achterberg leaves. C.Q. locks Door A.	P.H.
4:30 pm	R. Fenwick at counter with The Lantern Atlas; leaves about 4:45 pm.	P.H. / R.F.
4:52 pm	D. Achterberg texts C.Q.: offer stands until Saturday.	D18
5:30 pm	Shop closes. Mats swept, back door checked.	P.H.
5:30–7:00 pm	Book club at Marchetti Books. 11 members confirm T. Marchetti there throughout.	PC Ashby
5:40 pm	Rain begins.	D13
5:41 pm	Till closed and counted (I.Q. + P.H.).	D10
5:45 pm	C.Q., I.Q., P.H. leave by front door. C.Q. locks it.	P.H. / I.Q.
5:48 pm	D. Achterberg signs library visitors' book.	Librarian
5:50 pm	I. Quillfeather boards Route 12 bus to Market Harrow.	P.H. / I.Q.
6:00–7:00 pm	Library talk. C.Q. speaking, P.H. running slides, D.A. in front row.	Librarian
6:30–8:15 pm	I. Quillfeather in meeting with Pageturner Books, Market Harrow.	Ms. Okafor
7:05 pm	C.Q. and P.H. at the shop's front door. T. Marchetti across the road.	P.H. / T.M.
7:09 pm	C.Q. texts I.Q. (Lantern Atlas, top shelf).	D18
7:15 pm	D. Achterberg leaves library.	Librarian
8:20 pm	I.Q. texts C.Q. No reply.	D18
?	R. Fenwick: says 4:50 pm bus, then workshop alone until 10 pm. T. Marchetti: home alone after 7:10 pm. I. Quillfeather: home alone after 8:30 pm. Not yet checked.	—
FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16
8:50 am	P.H. unlocks front door. 8:52 am set 3 on hook. 8:55 am finds C.Q. 8:57 am calls 999.	D9 / D2
9:05 am	R. Fenwick arrives for 9:00 am appointment. 9:10 am PC Ashby arrives.	D2

Interview: Imogen Quillfeather

DATE	Friday, October 16	TIME	11:30 am
PLACE	Little Wexham Police Station	PRESENT	DI H. Moss, PC D. Ashby

DI MOSS: I'm sorry about your uncle. Tell me about Thursday.

I. QUILLFEATHER: I worked in the shop all day. Uncle C and I weren't talking much. Pageturner Books want to buy the shop, and I want to say yes. He kept saying no.

DI MOSS: Were you angry with him?

I. QUILLFEATHER: Frustrated. The shop barely breaks even. But I loved him. I texted him at lunchtime that I was meeting Pageturner that evening. He told me to go if I must.

DI MOSS: Talk me through the end of the day.

I. QUILLFEATHER: We closed at half past five. Priya and I counted the till while Uncle C checked the Rare Book Room was locked and tidied the office. The three of us left by the front door at about quarter to six. They walked me to the stop outside, and I got on the 5:50 bus to Market Harrow.

DI MOSS: And then?

I. QUILLFEATHER: The bus got in at twenty past six. I met Ms. Okafor from Pageturner at half past, and we talked until about quarter past eight. Then I walked home. I live in Market Harrow. I sent Uncle C a message after the meeting, but he never answered. I thought he was sulking.

DI MOSS: You hold a set of the shop keys.

I. QUILLFEATHER: Set 2: back door and Rare Book Room. It was in my bag all evening.

DI MOSS: Your uncle had an appointment with a solicitor on Friday.

I. QUILLFEATHER: Mr. Barnaby. Uncle C said he wanted to "change the partnership papers." I don't know what he meant.

DI MOSS: Had he quarreled with anyone else?

I. QUILLFEATHER: Theo Marchetti was in on Thursday afternoon, shouting about the Marsh Clock again. And Uncle C thought Priya had been taking money from the till. Rosalind? No. He trusted her with everything. She even has her own keys.

Interview: Theo Marchetti

DATE	Friday, October 16	TIME	2:15 pm
PLACE	Marchetti Books, Market Lane	PRESENT	DI H. Moss, PC D. Ashby

DI MOSS: You visited Quillfeather & Co. on Thursday.

T. MARCHETTI: At two o'clock, for a quarter of an hour. I asked Cornelius, again, to let me see the Marsh Clock. He refused, again.

DI MOSS: Why does that book matter to you?

T. MARCHETTI: Twelve years ago we bid against each other for it at an auction in Market Harrow. He won by fifty pounds. On Thursday I said things I regret. "That book should have been mine" was one of them. His assistant heard me.

DI MOSS: Where were you on Thursday evening?

T. MARCHETTI: Here. Our book club met from half past five until seven: eleven members and me. We discussed Kingfisher Summer. It started raining just after we began, and nobody wanted to leave.

DI MOSS: And after seven?

T. MARCHETTI: I locked up and walked home along the High Street. At about five past seven I passed Quillfeather's. Cornelius and his assistant were at the front door, and he was unlocking it. I thought about crossing the road to apologize. I didn't. I went home and made toast.

DI MOSS: Did anyone see you after that?

T. MARCHETTI: My cat.

DI MOSS: The Marsh Clock is missing.

T. MARCHETTI: Then look at collectors, Inspector, not booksellers. A dealer can't sell a missing first edition; every one of us would recognize it. Desmond Achterberg, on the other hand, would pay anything to own it and never show a soul.

DI MOSS: Do you know Rosalind Fenwick?

T. MARCHETTI: Everyone does. She does repairs for half the shops in the Vale. Not for mine. She's too expensive for me.

Interview: Priya Halloran

DATE	Friday, October 16	TIME	10:00 am
PLACE	Quillfeather & Co., office	PRESENT	DI H. Moss, PC D. Ashby

DI MOSS: Tell me about this morning.

P. HALLORAN: I unlocked the front door at ten to nine. I checked that spare set 3 was on its hook and signed the register. Then I saw the lamp on in the Rare Book Room. Door A was open, and he was at the foot of the ladder. I called 999 at 8:57.

DI MOSS: Now Thursday.

P. HALLORAN: At five past eleven I signed out set 3 to fetch The Clockmaker's Almanac for a customer, because Mr. Q was at the bank. It was back on the hook by twenty past. At two, Mr. Marchetti came in and argued about the Marsh Clock.

DI MOSS: And Mr. Achterberg?

P. HALLORAN: Quarter to four until twenty past. Door A has a glass panel, and I can see the ladder from the counter. At about ten past four Mr. Q climbed to the top shelf for the Marsh Clock, and at quarter past he climbed back up to put it away. Steady as anything. Mr. Achterberg left saying, "You'll regret this, Cornelius." Mr. Q locked Door A behind them.

DI MOSS: Did anyone go through Door A after that?

P. HALLORAN: No. I was at the counter until closing, and it faces Door A across the shop floor. At half past four Rosalind brought back the Lantern Atlas and chatted with Mr. Q at the counter. She left at about quarter to five. She said she had to catch the 4:50.

DI MOSS: And at closing?

P. HALLORAN: At half past five I swept both doormats, front and back, and checked the back door was latched. Imogen and I counted the till. We all left at quarter to six and saw Imogen onto her bus. Mr. Q and I walked to the library, I ran his slides from six to seven with Mr. Achterberg in the front row, and we walked back. We said good night at the shop door at about five past seven. Mr. Marchetti was across the road.

DI MOSS: Mr. Quillfeather spoke to you about the till.

P. HALLORAN: On Wednesday, about £400. That afternoon he apologized. He had written one bank deposit down twice.

DI MOSS: We found a note of numbers in his diary.

P. HALLORAN: One of his shelf-mark notes. Shelf, book, letter. An old bookseller's game. He wrote private reminders that way so customers couldn't read his desk.

Interview: Desmond Achterberg

DATE	Friday, October 16	TIME	1:00 pm
PLACE	Orchard House, Little Wexham	PRESENT	DI H. Moss, PC D. Ashby

DI MOSS: You wanted to buy the Marsh Clock.

D. ACHTERBERG: For six years. On Thursday I offered eighteen thousand pounds, more than it is worth. He said no, kindly, as always.

DI MOSS: Tell me about your visit.

D. ACHTERBERG: I arrived at quarter to four. He took me into the Rare Book Room, climbed to the top shelf and let me hold the book at the reading table for five minutes. Then he climbed back up and put it away. Steady as a mountain goat on that ladder.

DI MOSS: Did you notice anything about the book?

D. ACHTERBERG: The new binding. Mrs. Fenwick's work, he told me, done in September. Handsome, though I would have preferred the original cloth. I didn't get to check the points of the first edition. He put it away before I could.

DI MOSS: A witness says you told him, "You'll regret this."

D. ACHTERBERG: I meant he would regret turning down a fair price. At 4:52 I sent him a message to say my offer stood until Saturday. Inspector, I have never touched that ladder in my life.

DI MOSS: Where were you on Thursday evening?

D. ACHTERBERG: Home for tea, then to the library for Cornelius's talk. I signed the visitors' book at 5:48; I like the front row. He spoke well, and his assistant ran the slides. I asked a question about cloth bindings. Afterward I stayed chatting with the librarian until about quarter past seven, then walked home in the drizzle.

DI MOSS: You left your business card on the reading table.

D. ACHTERBERG: I always do. Hope springs eternal.

Interview: Rosalind Fenwick

DATE	Friday, October 16	TIME	3:30 pm
PLACE	Little Wexham Police Station	PRESENT	DI H. Moss, PC D. Ashby

DI MOSS: You came to the shop at 9:05 this morning.

R. FENWICK: For a nine o'clock meeting with Cornelius. Your constable told me at the door. I still can't take it in.

DI MOSS: What was the meeting about?

R. FENWICK: He messaged me on Thursday afternoon asking to talk about the Marsh Clock job. I rebound it in September. I assumed he wanted another book done.

DI MOSS: You hold a set of the shop's keys.

R. FENWICK: Set 4: back door and Rare Book Room. Cornelius gave it to me so I could collect and return books out of hours. I have it here.

DI MOSS: Tell me about Thursday.

R. FENWICK: I worked in my workshop in Market Harrow all day. At about twenty past three I picked up some supplies on my way to the bus, and I caught the 3:50 over to Little Wexham with the Lantern Atlas I had repaired. I left it with Priya at the counter at about half past four and had a few words with Cornelius.

DI MOSS: And then?

R. FENWICK: I left at quarter to five and caught the 4:50 bus home from the High Street stop, as I always do on a Thursday. I was in my workshop by twenty past five, and I worked alone until ten. Gilding. It's quiet work.

DI MOSS: Did anyone see you there?

R. FENWICK: No. I live alone, above the workshop.

DI MOSS: Did you go into the Rare Book Room on Thursday?

R. FENWICK: No. I never went into the Rare Book Room yesterday. Door A was locked, and Cornelius was busy.

DI MOSS: Did Mr. Quillfeather have enemies?

R. FENWICK: Enemies? Theo Marchetti, perhaps. And Mr. Achterberg would do almost anything for that book. You should ask him.

Key register: back door and Rare Book Room

Kept in the counter drawer. Every key set opens two locks: the back door and Door A (Rare Book Room).

KEY SETS ISSUED

SET	HELD BY	ISSUED	RETURNED
1	C. Quillfeather (owner)	permanent	—
2	I. Quillfeather (partner)	permanent	—
3	SHOP SPARE: stays on the hook behind the counter. Sign out below.	—	—
4	R. Fenwick, Fenwick Bindery (out-of-hours repair work)	Tue, Sept 1 C.Q.

SPARE SET 3: SIGN-OUT LOG

DATE	OUT	BACK	REASON	INITIALS
Tue, Oct 13	10:40 am	10:55 am	fetch 2·3 for customer	P.H.
Wed, Oct 14	2:15 pm	2:30 pm	stock check, shelf 1	I.Q.
Thu, Oct 15	11:05 am	11:20 am	fetch 2·5 for customer (Mr. Q at bank)	P.H.
Thu, Oct 15	5:30 pm	—	closing check: set 3 on hook	P.H.
Fri, Oct 16	8:52 am	—	opening check: set 3 on hook	P.H.

HOUSE RULES (TAPED INSIDE THE DRAWER)

1. Door A stays locked unless Mr. Q is in the Rare Book Room. 2. Spare set 3 never leaves the shop. 3. Lost a key? Tell Mr. Q the same day.

Accounts book, September to October

One page of the shop's handwritten-and-typed accounts book, photographed by PC Ashby.

DATE	ITEM	IN	OUT
Sept 3	Fenwick Bindery: rebinding, The Marsh Clock (5·1). Book collected by R.F. Sept 1.		£340.00
Sept 29	The Marsh Clock back from Fenwick Bindery, new half-leather binding. Returned to 5·1.
Oct 2	Bank deposit (shop takings)		£400.00
Oct 2	Bank deposit (shop takings)		£400.00
Oct 8	Fenwick Bindery: repair, The Lantern Atlas (5·3). Collected Oct 8, due back Oct 15.		£120.00
Oct 14	Till check: £400 short? No! Oct 2 deposit written twice. Nothing missing. C.Q.
Oct 15	Sale: The Clockmaker's Almanac (2·5)	£180.00
Oct 15	Till takings, closed and counted 5:41 pm (I.Q. + P.H.)	£286.40

PC ASHBY'S NOTE

Prices are in pounds sterling (£). The Oct 2 deposit appears twice; the bank statement shows only one deposit of £400 on Oct 2.

Cornelius Quillfeather's diary

Found open on the reading table. The week of October 12. Written in his own hand.

MON 12 Pageturner letter. Answer: NO.	TUE 13 Slides for library talk.
WED 14 Till: my mistake! Oct 2 deposit written twice. Apologize to P. M.C.: checked the points. See note.	THU 15 D.A. 3:45 (he'll offer again) Library talk 6 pm
FRI 16 9:00 R.F. (M.C. binding) 11:00 Mr. Barnaby, partnership papers	SAT 17 Imogen, lunch?

FOUND WITH THIS PAGE

A folded note was tucked inside at the Friday page. It is filed separately as D14.

Vale Rider Route 12: Little Wexham ⇄ Market Harrow

Monday to Friday timetable, valid from September. Afternoon and evening departures shown. Morning buses run hourly from 7:20 am.

LITTLE WEXHAM TO MARKET HARROW

STOP	AFTERNOON AND EVENING (PM)
Little Wexham, High Street	12:50	1:50	2:50	3:50	4:50 S	5:50	6:50	7:50
Wexham Cross	1:02	2:02	3:02	4:02	5:02 S	6:02	7:02	8:02
Market Harrow, Station Road	1:20	2:20	3:20	4:20	5:20 S	6:20	7:20	8:20

MARKET HARROW TO LITTLE WEXHAM

STOP	AFTERNOON AND EVENING (PM)
Market Harrow, Station Road	12:50	1:50	2:50	3:50	4:50 S	5:50	6:50	7:50
Wexham Cross	1:08	2:08	3:08	4:08	5:08 S	6:08	7:08	8:08
Little Wexham, High Street	1:20	2:20	3:20	4:20	5:20 S	6:20	7:20	8:20

Notes

S = School days only. These journeys do not run during school holidays or on school staff training days.

Journey time about 30 minutes. Last bus from Little Wexham 9:50 pm. Buses stop outside 14 High Street (Quillfeather & Co.).

VALE RIDER

Please have your fare ready. Bicycles are not carried. Lost property: Market Harrow depot.

Wexham Vale Weather Station: daily log

Thursday, October 15. Volunteer-run station on the roof of Little Wexham Library.

TIME	TEMP	SKY	RAIN	WIND
12:00 pm	59°F (15°C)	Overcast	Dry	Light
1:00 pm	59°F (15°C)	Overcast	Dry	Light
2:00 pm	58°F (14°C)	Overcast	Dry	Light
3:00 pm	58°F (14°C)	Cloudy	Dry	Light
4:00 pm	57°F (14°C)	Cloudy	Dry	Moderate
5:00 pm	55°F (13°C)	Low cloud	Dry	Moderate
5:40 pm	54°F (12°C)	Low cloud	Light rain begins	Moderate
6:00 pm	54°F (12°C)	Low cloud	Moderate rain	Moderate
7:00 pm	53°F (12°C)	Low cloud	Drizzle	Light
8:00 pm	52°F (11°C)	Low cloud	Drizzle	Light
9:30 pm	51°F (11°C)	Clearing	Rain stops	Light
11:00 pm	48°F (9°C)	Clear	Dry	Calm

Summary: Dry until 5:40 pm, then rain or drizzle until 9:30 pm. Total rainfall 0.4 in (10 mm). Sunset 6:14 pm. Friday morning dry and bright.

OBSERVER'S NOTE

Unpaved paths and gardens were soft and muddy from about 6:00 pm.

Folded note found in the diary

Small slip of paper, folded once, tucked into D11 at the Friday page. Handwriting matches the diary.

Wed. night

1·6·5 5·6·4 1·5·7 2·4·1

1·2·2 5·5·1 5·4·11

4·4·3 3·1·1 5·2·1

2·6·6 4·5·1

– C.Q.

DI MOSS

Twelve groups of numbers, in three lines. Not a phone number, not a date, not a sum. Something private.

Rare Book Room: Case R shelf list

Kept in the reading-table drawer. Shelf marks read shelf·book: 3·4 = shelf 3, fourth book from the left.

SHELF	MARK	TITLE	AUTHOR	YEAR / NOTES
SHELF 1 Bottom shelf	1·1	Gardens of the Weald	Mary Ashdown	1823
	1·2	A Pocket Herbal	Thomas Wren	1798
	1·3	Sermons by Lamplight	Rev. J. Penhale	1840
	1·4	The Coaching Roads of England	W. Bragg	1811
	1·5	Kettle and Hearth	Lydia Sorrel	1866
	1·6	Notes on Pigeons	Edwin Plover	1872
SHELF 2	2·1	Wexham Vale: A History	Rev. A. Cobb	1834
	2·2	The Glassblower's Daughter	Ann Merriott	1858
	2·3	Voyage to the Spice Isles	Capt. R. Dene	1789
	2·4	Pressed Flowers	Clara Hollin	1879
	2·5	The Clockmaker's Almanac	Anonymous	1802 · SOLD Oct 15
	2·6	Quiet Rivers	Owen Fairley	1890
SHELF 3	3·1	Swallows over Kent	Grace Tilling	1861
	3·2	A Winter Ledger	J. M. Pike	1849
	3·3	Fireside Games for All Seasons	"A Lady"	1873
	3·4	Plain Country Cookery	Hannah Brisk	1855
	3·5	Wayside Chapels of Sussex	R. Coller	1828
	3·6	Owls and Other Night Birds	Edwin Plover	1884
SHELF 4 Ladder needed	4·1	Rambles in Dorset	Clara Hollin	1867
	4·2	Duet for Two Pianos	Ann Merriott	1881
	4·3	Apples of Old England	Thomas Wren	1846
	4·4	Sea Charts of the Channel	Capt. R. Dene	1815
	4·5	Ferns and Mosses	Grace Tilling	1859
	4·6	Pilgrim Roads	W. Bragg	1820
SHELF 5 Top shelf · ladder needed	5·1	The Marsh Clock	Ada Thorncastle	1851 · FIRST EDITION*
	5·2	Kingfisher Summer	Ada Thorncastle	1868
	5·3	The Lantern Atlas	J. Arden	1792 · repair, Fenwick Bindery, Oct
	5·4	Poems of the Downs	M. Ashdown	1826
	5·5	Embers	Lydia Sorrel	1880
	5·6	The Weaver's Song	Owen Fairley	1843

* The Marsh Clock, first edition (London, 1851). Points of the first edition: title page dated 1851; misprint "Clocke" on page 3, line 7. Both were corrected in the second printing (1852). Rebound in September by Fenwick Bindery.

The Wexham Vale Courier, "Around the Vale"

Clipped from Wednesday's paper. Found pinned to the noticeboard in the shop's workroom.

The Wexham Vale Courier

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 14 — AROUND THE VALE — PAGE 7

Caring for Old Books: a free talk at the library

Bookseller Cornelius Quillfeather of Quillfeather & Co., High Street, will give a free talk at Little Wexham Library on Thursday from 6 pm to 7 pm. Mr. Quillfeather, whose family has sold books in the village for two generations, promises "practical advice, a few rare treasures on the screen, and no lecture about dust." All welcome; arrive early for a seat.

Schools closed Thursday

All Wexham Vale schools will be closed to pupils on Thursday, October 15, for a staff training day. Pupils return on Friday as normal. Parents are asked to check school websites for details of any clubs.

Book club returns

Marchetti Books, Market Lane, hosts its monthly book club on Thursday at 5:30 pm. This month: Kingfisher Summer by Ada Thorncastle. Tea and cookies provided. New members welcome.

Chain eyes the High Street

Pageturner Books, which runs 40 shops across the south, says it is "in friendly talks" about a site on Little Wexham's High Street. The company would not say which building it has in mind.

Shop receipt found under the ladder

Folded paper receipt, found on the Rare Book Room floor beneath the ladder, partly under its left wheel (see D2).

HARROW BOOKBINDING SUPPLIES
22 Station Road, Market Harrow
Paper · Leather · Tools since 1961

THU OCT 15 3:25 PM
Till 1 Receipt 4471
Trade account: F.B. #0417

Wheat-starch paste 250g	£6.50
Bone folder	£8.00
Screwdriver, fine 2.5mm	£4.20
Linen thread, natural	£3.10

TOTAL £21.80
Paid Trade account

Thank you. Mind your spines!

PC ASHBY

Receipt is dry and clean, with one fold. Harrow Bookbinding Supplies is about a two-minute walk from the Market Harrow bus stop on Station Road.

Messages on Cornelius Quillfeather's phone

Printed by PC Ashby. Thursday, October 15. All messages from that day are shown.

MESSAGES · THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15

IMOGEN · 12:30 pm

Pageturner want to meet tonight, 6:30, in Market Harrow. I'm going. Please read their offer before you say no again.

TO IMOGEN · 12:41 pm

Go if you must. The answer is still no. C.

TO ROSALIND FENWICK · 3:12 pm

Rosalind, could you come in at 9 tomorrow? I'd like a word about the Marsh Clock job. Just the two of us, please. C.

ROSALIND FENWICK · 3:40 pm

Of course. 9 sharp. R.

DESMOND ACHTERBERG · 4:52 pm

Think it over, Cornelius. My offer stands until Saturday. D.A.

TO IMOGEN · 7:09 pm

Back from the library. Putting the Lantern Atlas back up on the top shelf, then home. We'll talk tomorrow. C.

IMOGEN · 8:20 pm

Meeting just finished. They were nice, honestly. Talk tomorrow x

Shaded bubbles with a thin border = received. White bubbles with a thick left edge = sent by Cornelius.