DRESS-UP IDEA

A cap, a bag across your body, and a clipboard of delivery slips.

AT THE CONTEST, EVERYONE KNOWS

Toby drives the little pink van of Sprinkle Street Sugar Co. and brought the bakers their sugar this afternoon.

How this booklet works

- 1 Read page 2 now, quietly. It tells you who you are, where you were and your own little secret.
- 2 Wait for the Inspector. Round 1 is on page 3. Your Round 2 and Round 3 come as sealed slips: open each one only when Chief Inspector Crumb says so.
- 3 Talk, ask and solve! Share your clues, ask your questions and vote for who has the Golden Whisk.

Turn the page only when the Inspector says “Open your case files.” Keep your sealed slips closed until your round is called.

You want Chief Inspector Crumb to find out who did.

You deliver sugar on Sprinkle Street. Long ago, your great-grandparent made the Golden Whisk. You think it should live in the Tart family shop.

At 2:05 you ate a big handful of Max's chocolate sprinkles. Shh!

2:00–2:10 Contest Kitchen, delivering sugar. The pink bag ripped at Station 2!

2:10–2:40 In your van: out to the Sugar Mill and back.

2:40 Parked and saw a crowd at the Display Tent.

“Why are your boots pink?” “The pink bag ripped at Station 2. I stood right in it!”

“Do you want the Whisk?” “My family made it... but I would never take it.”

“Where did you go?” “To the Sugar Mill. My delivery book has a stamp.”
