Yellow and black stripes, a sun hat with a scarf, and an empty honey jar.

AT THE CONTEST, EVERYONE KNOWS

Hazel keeps bees behind the Bandstand and sells honey at the market stall there.

How this booklet works

- 1 Read page 2 now, quietly. It tells you who you are, where you were and your own little secret.
- 2 Wait for the Inspector. Round 1 is on page 3. Your Round 2 and Round 3 come as sealed slips: open each one only when Chief Inspector Crumb says so.
- 3 Talk, ask and solve! Share your clues, ask your questions and vote for who has the Golden Whisk.

Good questions

No peeking ahead, Detective!

Turn the page only when the Inspector says “Open your case files.” Keep your sealed slips closed until your round is called.

★ You did NOT take the Golden Whisk.

You want Chief Inspector Crumb to find out who did.

If your character is not in the game, the mystery still works.

Who you are

You sell honey at the Bandstand market. You asked to carry the Golden Whisk in the Bee Parade, and Juniper said no.

YOUR LITTLE SECRET

At 2:05 one of your bees flew into the Display Tent. You sneaked in, caught it in a jar and left at 2:08. The Whisk was still there.

Where you were, 2 to 3 pm

2:00–2:05 Your honey stall at the Bandstand.

2:05–2:08 Display Tent, catching your bee.

2:08–2:45 Back at your stall. (If Basil is playing, Basil's table was next to yours.)

If someone asks you...

“Why is your sleeve gold and sticky?” “Honey! It’s always honey.”

“Were you in the Display Tent?” “Only for a minute, at 2:05.”

“Did you take the Whisk for your parade?” “No! I’ll ask nicely again next year.”
