Evidence Cards · Sheet 1

A helper (not the Detective) cuts these out. Keep cards face down until the Detective calls their round.

EVIDENCE #1 — ROUND 1

The Floor Plan

Candlewick Hall, main floor. The Ballroom opens onto the Lantern Gallery, a long corridor with nine tall windows facing the terrace. Vesper's window chair sits by window seven. At the far end: the Coat Room, a cider kettle in an alcove, and the Back Stairs, the only way down to the Dipping Room and the Stockroom.

Found: Framed beside the front door.

EVIDENCE #2 — ROUND 1

The Pumpkin Cup

Vesper's own pumpkin-shaped pottery cup, a third full of hot apple cider, now cold. It smells of cinnamon and something faintly bitter. Nobody else at the ball was given a pumpkin cup.

Found: On the sill beside the window chair, window seven.

EVIDENCE #3 — ROUND 1

A Note on Hook 3

Pinned to an empty coat hook, in pencil: "FOX MASK, back in 10 min! Too hot to carve in it. Please don't touch. J.G. 8:25." The hook is empty. On hook 5 hangs a patchwork sewing bag, its zip half open.

Found: The Coat Room, beside the Back Stairs.

EVIDENCE #4 — ROUND 1

A Coil of Fishing Line

Clear, thin and nearly invisible in candlelight. About sixty feet of it, wound around a cardboard tube. One end is tied in a tiny loop. A faint line of soot runs along the window frame above it.

Found: Behind the velvet curtain at window one.

EVIDENCE #5 — ROUND 2

The Doctor's Note

"Sleeping drops, a strong dose, in the pumpkin cup only. The cider urn, the gallery kettle and every other cup are fine. Drops this strong bring a deep sleep within ten minutes of drinking. Vesper simply never woke."

Found: Handed to the Detective by the town doctor.

EVIDENCE #6 — ROUND 2

The Gazette Photos

The Hollow Gazette's terrace camera, one photo every six minutes. Frames stamped 8:30 and 8:36: in both, Jory Greaves, bare-faced, lights the row of jack-o'-lanterns, and Perry Lanthorn stands on a stepladder by the gallery windows, holding something thin and shiny.

Found: The camera on the terrace steps.

EVIDENCE #7 — ROUND 2

The Parade Line-up Sheet

"Costume Parade line-up, ballroom stage, 8:30 to 8:45. Roll called every five minutes. Entrants may NOT leave the line." Ticked at every call: No. 2 Darcy Wickliffe, "The Golden Sun," and Briar Fallow, pinning hems.

Found: Clipped to the music stand on the stage.

EVIDENCE #8 — ROUND 2

A Torn Supply Slip

Candlewick Works stockroom slip, torn in half. Still readable: "1 battery tea light · 1 roll fishing line · 1 small brass hook · for the gallery windows." Only two letters of the signature survive: "Pe".

Found: Under the stepladder on the terrace.

EVIDENCE #9 — ROUND 3

The Fox Mask

Jory's orange felt fox mask, pushed under wax shavings. Around both eye holes, on the inside: smudges of gold face paint. Wrapped inside the mask, an empty brown dropper bottle labeled "Sleep Drops · B. Fallow."

Found: The Stockroom bin, at the foot of the Back Stairs.

EVIDENCE #10 — ROUND 3

The Hour Candle

A tall candle marked in hours, kept burning while anyone works the vats. Painted on the wall: "Never leave the vats unwatched. Snuff the hour candle and chalk the time." On the slate, in chalk: "Out 8:20 · Back 8:45." No initials.

Found: The Dipping Room bench.

EVIDENCE #11 — ROUND 3

Notes for Nine O'Clock

In Vesper's hand: "Candlewick Hall goes to the town as the Lantern Museum. Appraiser values everything on November 1. The six brass candle molds in the case are FAKES. Whoever sold the real ones has until nine to tell me."

Found: Vesper's desk, the study off the gallery.

EVIDENCE #12 — ROUND 3

The Dealer's Receipt

Hollow Antiques. "Six brass candle molds, Candlewick Works, 1890. Paid $1,800 cash. Collected at the Back Stairs door of the Hall, 7 a.m., from a member of the household with their own key." Clipped to it, Vesper's note: "Dealer won't give the name."

Found: Vesper's desk drawer, in the study.
